TeleScript PRO™ is Telescript's solution for professional prompting environments that demand ease-of-use, open standards, and reliability. The only prompting software built specifically for Windows 2000/XP, TeleScript PRO combines inherent platform stability, true pre-emptive multi-tasking and multi-threading, and a familiar, intuitive Windows user interface. Full UNICODE compliance means one version of TeleScript PRO supports all world languages and character sets - even within the same script. No proprietary hardware is required, resulting in total compatibility with industry standard "off-the-shelf" video cards and converters.

TeleScript PRO seamlessly addresses multiple physical displays, and operators can completely customise and save their preferences. These features, plus continued support of developing technologies such as MOS, makes TeleScript PRO the only choice for the next generation of production professionals.
